

DON'T JUST CERTIFY YOUR PLANT
PROTECT IT

Congratulations for completing the Anaerobic Digestion Certification Scheme!

In the anaerobic digestion sector, losses sustained as a result of inadequate risk management can be challenging, and have far-reaching consequences for everyone involved. Risk allocation and risk sharing are critical factors to any plant or company's success.

We believe risk management should be a positive process, that seeks to eliminate or mitigate risk as well as identify opportunities for development. The Anaerobic Digestion Certification Scheme (ADCS) was developed to give you the tools to understand your risk exposures, and identify the optimum solution to help reduce risk. In some cases, it may remove the risk entirely.

The insurers we work with are so confident in the scheme that they have agreed for certified plants to benefit from:

- Paying only 90% of your policy premium - when you take out your policy through us, you'll only pay 90% of the premium. You will only need to pay the remaining 10% if you make a claim.
- Improved rating - various factors are taken into account when underwriters determine the cost of your policy. These factors all come together to give your plant a rating. Being ADCS certified could mean you'll have a lower premium than if you weren't. The better your rating, the lower your premium will be.

- Included claim preparation fees - if you make a claim, your insurer will normally appoint a loss adjuster to visit your plant, assess the incident and establish if the claim is a covered loss under the policy. Typically, if you want support negotiating the best available settlement you can pay for a claims consultant to act for you.

As part of this policy we include claim preparation fees as standard so that if you suffer loss or damage you can appoint a claims specialist of your choice to represent you. This can include accessing the support of our Claims Consultancy team who have over 14 years' experience of achieving the optimum settlement for clients.

- Premium stability and long term cover - each year when you renew your policy, your premium can change. It could increase due to incidents within the anaerobic digestion (AD) and biogas industry.

Taking out long term cover means that you can protect your plant for 3 - 5 years for one fixed premium against these increases.*

- Business-specific policy extensions - as no two plants are the same, so are no two insurance policies. We can add specific extensions to your policy to make sure your plant is protected, such as employers' liability and directors' and officers' cover.

We're all about you

Our standing in the industry and our knowledge and expertise of the markets we operate in, allows us to design and deploy robust and appropriate insurance and risk management solutions, providing the protection you require.

We have access to a range of specialist and exclusive insurance policies designed specifically for the AD and biogas industry, to help ensure your plant and people are protected. This expertise and our long standing presence in the AD and biogas industry, has led us to become the insurance and risk management partner for the Anaerobic Digestion and Biogas Association.

Looking for and deciding upon Renewable Energy Insurance is usually a testing process, however, Jelf have provided a first rate service and I would be happy to recommend them. I am extremely happy with the policy Jelf has provided and was particularly impressed with the knowledge and expertise demonstrated in such a specific field.
